Collection of personal data in connection with AU Evacuate

1. AU Evacuate
   AU Evacuate is an application that is used as a supplement to the existing emergency response system at Aarhus University. The application will send out emergency alerts to the users in critical situations where either specific buildings need to be evacuated, or where other critical circumstances require that a message must reach everyone in a specific area as quickly as possible. The application will also inform the users of the development of critical situations and notify users when the crisis is over.
